TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. – For the second year in a row, Northwest Education Services (North Ed) Career Tech is sending its staffers to the national awards stage.

Karmin Olds, a counselor at Career Tech, and Pat Lamb, North Ed's assistant superintendent of Career and Technical Education, will travel to Nashville, Tennessee in December. There, they will be recognized among a group of educational leaders at the national Association for Career & Technical Education (ACTE) Career Tech VISION conference.

Olds and Lamb both were selected as the winners at the ACTE Region 1 Conference held in late March in Foxborough, Massachusetts. Lamb won ACTE Region 1 Administrator of the Year, and Olds won ACTE Region 1 Counseling & Career Development Professional of the Year. Both won similar awards at the Michigan ACTE Conference in December.

"These awards underscore the profound contributions Pat and Karmin have made to career and technical education and the significant impacts they've made on the lives of students," said North Ed Superintendent Dr. Nick Ceglarek. "The fact that this is the second year in a row North Ed has had representation at the national level is a testament to the vital roles our Career Tech team plays in empowering students to explore new pathways and pursue their career aspirations."

Career Tech's Power Equipment instructor, Jared Diephouse, was recognized nationally as one of the finalists for Teacher of the Year by the ACTE in 2024.

Olds and Lamb will now compete for the national awards against finalists from four other regions.

"I am inspired by the work of all the other regional award recipients and I am humbled to be recognized among such esteemed educators and leaders," Lamb said. "This achievement is a reflection of the team we have at Career Tech and the amazing things people are doing every day to help students achieve their goals."

"It is truly an honor to be recognized among so many dedicated professionals," Olds said. "I am especially grateful for the students who inspire me daily, and for my colleagues who create such a supportive and collaborative environment. Seeing the impact we have on students' lives and their futures is the most rewarding part of this work.”

This recognition adds to Career Tech's recent awards, including several Excellence in Practice Awards given by the Michigan Department of Education:
